85TH HASTINGS INTERNATIONAL CHESS CONGRESS

Romain Edouard (Fra), David Howell, The Mayor, Mark Hebden, Isratescu (Rou) and the Golombek Trophy

The 85th Hastings International Chess Congress drew to a close on 5th January at Horntye Park Sports Complex, Hastings. The closing ceremony was attended by Cllr. Maureen Charlesworth, the Right Worshipful Mayor of Hastings, Cllr. Peter Pragnell, Leader of Hastings Borough Council and prospective Conservative candidate Amber Rudd.

The Congress attracted players from 23 countries - including a Masters player from Iraq. The number of entries was similar to last year at 452. Organisers were pleased to see a number of new faces, who all expressed their hope to return for the 86th Congress

Well, global warming certainly arrived in the South East of England. On the 4th of January, when the office reopened after the Christmas break, the staff struggled in through 6-8 inches of snow, only to find that there was no heating for the entire building. After a couple of hours we had to give in and make the return journey home - hours instead of the usual 20 mins. The next day we did it all again, but this time carrying shovels and heaters (never say die). The following week I spent three hours with a colleague on the station platform before being told that all trains had been cancelled, then had to walk home because the roads were closed. Who says we Southerners are soft? Happy New Year to all!

CHESS FOR SCHOOLS Chess for schools takes to island life

Andrew Turner, MP for IoW, at Gatten & Lake Primary School in Shanklin, IOW

The Chess for Schools project continues to build momentum across the UK with the announcement that the national education initiative has moved onto the Isle of Wight. Schools across the entire island have now received their free chess sets. To mark the occasion, Andrew Turner MP for IoW personally delivered a box of 10 chess sets to Gatten & Lake Primary School in Shanklin.

Chess for Schools is a nationwide charitable initiative that aims to deliver 10 free chess sets to every one of England's 25,000 schools, in an effort to promote strategic thinking, brain games and the creation of school chess clubs and inter-school chess tournaments.

"I am very pleased to support the Chess for Schools initiative," commented Mr Turner. "I learned to play chess as a child and it is an enjoyable way to encourage strategic thinking and problem solving. Once learned it is a lifelong skill, whatever level you play at. I do hope that these free chess sets will encourage youngsters on the island to take up the game and, who knows, we may even have a future Chess Grand Master here on the Isle of Wight."

Mrs Karen Bartlett, Head Teacher of Gatten & Lake Primary School, was delighted with the positive effects this project will bring:

"The children are already recognising the benefits of playing chess and are teaching other children how to play the game. We are looking forward to setting up a school chess tournament which will not only impact the pupils' enjoyment of the game but their overall achievement in school."

The Chess for Schools boxes, which each contain 10 free chess sets, were distributed to schools across the island with help from the IoW's County Council and Lloyds TSB who sponsored delivery of the chess sets from the manufacturers, Holloid Plastics, in Basingstoke.

Chess for Schools is an ongoing programme with nearly 8,000 schools signed up to the first phase. Distribution is being handled in a phased national roll out programme. In addition to the Isle of Wight, schools across Surrey, Hampshire and Oxfordshire have also received sets.

Holloid Plastics, one of the country's leading plastic injection moulding specialists, has teamed up with the English Chess Federation (ECF) to create Chess for Schools. Holloid is making and distributing all of the 250,000 chess sets needed.

Hastings ICC

The Masters Tournament was a strong event and provided some interesting play, watched by a daily audience attending to listen to grandmaster Chris Ward's live commentary. Games were also followed by an international audience via the internet - nine games were broadcast daily.

The Christmas and New Year events provided an opportunity for unrated players to enjoy competitive chess, some for the first time. The 27th Weekend Congress was won by Hastings' Ambassador for Sport, International Master Thomas Rendle. Thomas' family home remains in Hastings although he is away much of the time studying and pursuing his chess career.

Thanks must, once again, go to Hastings Borough Council for their continuing support without which the Congress would not continue. Invaluable additional sponsorship was given by the White Rock Hotel who provided accommodation for leading players. The Congress also wishes to thank The Pig in Paradise, Gwalia Resources, Deutsch UK and KC Computers for their support.

The Congress ran without incident and, luckily, without snow. The venue at Horntye Park is ideal, having adequate space to accommodate all tournaments, commentary and catering under one roof. A large-screen TV broadcasting cricket (from South Africa) and other international sports provided light relief for the players between games!

Luckily, most players left Hastings immediately after the prize-giving on 5th January, but snow hampered a quick getaway for those leaving on 6th - many of whom were travelling by road and rail to the North of England and Scotland, and overseas by air.

Alan Hustwayte with personal presentation . of prize – a silver chess set – for Best Performance against Rating, won by Peter Williams

It is hoped that the 86th Hastings International Chess Congress will take place at the end of December 2010. No definite decision can be taken until after HBC Budget decisions are taken in the Spring. Meanwhile organisers continue their search for a major commercial sponsor

Quadrangular in Liverpool December 2009

a report from Peter Purland

The annual event involving teams of 26 (6 under 16, 10 under 14 and 10 under 12s) from Scotland, Wales Northern England and the English Midlands took place at Greenbank School on the weekend of 12/13 December. There was an added bonus this year as three Irish players had come over and were joined by three Scots to form a Gaelic team. The Midlands and North put out a combined U16 team and, apart from missing 2 U14s the Midlands had a full team. The two Saturday rounds were Midlands v North and Wales v Scotland followed by North v Wales and Midlands v Scotland. Round One saw the North defeat Midlands 8.5 – 1.5 (U14) and 7.5 - 2.5 U12) whilst Scotland defeated Wales 5.5 - 0.5 (U16), 6-4 (U14) and 8-2 (U12). Round two saw the Gaels lose 5-1 to Wales U16 whilst North and Midlands won 4-2 against Scotland. At U14, Wales had a good match against North only losing 4.5 - 5.5 although their U12s suffered a clean sweep. Scotland meanwhile defeated Midlands 6.5 - 3.5 at U14 but lost 4.5 - 5.5 at U12. Going in to the final round North looked strong favourites to win the U12 although second place was in doubt up to the end. North restricted Scotland to a single point whilst Midlands beat Wales 7.5 – 1.5 (a double default) to gain second place. This year the North is very strong and was, in fact, without its top two players, but next year most will be too old whilst the Midlands team is very young! At U14 level Scotland fought hard but in the end went down 7.5 - 2.5 whilst Midlands beat Wales 5-4. This gave Scotland second place and Wales third. At U16 level Scotland had to win 6-0 to be certain of claiming the spoils and, despite the odd heartache en route, accomplished this whilst the North and Midlands beat Wales 5.5 - 0.5. Peter Rainey of Scotland won all his three games whilst from the north Jacob Manton (playing up) Daniel Lea, George Fortune, Matthew Fanning, Tim Chatys, Ben Scattergood, Andrew Horton and Natalie Cass all got three wins whilst Matthew Walsh made it six straight wins.

Again, this was a very pleasant weekend with competitive chess and great friendship shown by all four teams. We look forward to continuing the fixture next year

English Primary School Rapid Play Championships

This annual event was held at Broadgreen School, Liverpool and attracted just under 200 players. The Open Section had players from all over England although the other sections were almost exclusively north-west based. The snow, which meant many schools had only started the Monday before, inevitably hit entries but many of our regulars still turned up with good numbers. The prizes were well shared out this year with every area entering 5 or more players getting at least one prize. For only the second time in 21 years a player got his name on the championship trophy for the second time. Hector Huser from Kent had been one of 5 sharing the title in 2009 and this year he returned the trophy but was without it for less than 8 hours! After 4 rounds only Hector and Matthew Fergusson were on 100% and they drew their 5th round game. They were joined on 4.5 by Ashwin Kalyana who was forced to play Matthew in the final round whilst Hector floated down against Dylan Williams. Ashwin and Matthew drew and came equal second, whilst Hector won to retain the trophy - on his own this time! The U10A section was shared between Jack Nolan (Cheshire) and Nathan Roebuck (Oldham), the U9A also shared between Carmel Barwick (Cheshire) and Marcus Lazenby (Liverpool) whilst the U8s was won by Andrew Fergusson (Birmingham). By coincidence Aroun Kalyana was second so one first and three second trophy made their way back to Birmingham. The three B sections were won by Laura O'Leary of Wirral (U11), Jay Taylor of Oldham (U10) and Isaac Thompson of Manchester (U9). These sections prove an excellent training ground for the lower boards of association teams and are just as fiercely contested as any other. Next year's event will be on January 15th at Broadgreen and, with better weather in the run up we hope numbers will return to the 250 mark

BLACK TO MOVE

Book Reviews

by Gary Lane

The Most Valuable Skills in Chess by Maurice Ashley

published by Gambit £11.99

The blurb on the back of the book proudly states, "He has been called the Tiger Woods of Chess", but no further details are added. Yes, it was published a while ago but keen book lovers should watch out for a change of wording when the new edition appears. This is a user-friendly book, which starts out demonstrating how the pieces move but is really aimed at players who can play but need to move to the next stage. I reckon those with a grade of 100+ will benefit most from Ashley's basic tips, which are clearly written and informative. He also advises a form of defence, which is called TRIP, which is apparently take, run, interpose and protect. This is part of a chapter called Homeland Security, which is a reminder that the American is writing for his home market along with chapter titles such as Wall Street and Float like a Butterfly. Ashley is in fine form demonstrating famous, classic games such as Morphy versus Duke of Brunswick. Yes, we might have seen it countless times but the potential audience are new to chess so why not entertain them?

The perfect present for someone who just wants to improve.

Dismantling the Sicilian by Jesus de la Villa

published by New in Chess £20.99

In the 1980s playing against the Sicilian seemed easy with White if you owned Beat the Sicilian by John Nunn. The White repertoire proved to be immensely popular and although sometimes things went wrong there were always Editions Two and Three available to help the reader react in the right way. The latest author to turn his attention to providing a winning formula for White is the Spanish player Jesus de la Villa who according to the back cover was born in 1958 but I am not sure if that is just too much detail. I think the most interesting lines are against the lesser-known variations where he actually borrows a few of Nunn's original recommendations. The best thing is that he shows all the tricks and traps even if White is always on top. The Najdorf comes up against the English Attack, which is hardly original and requires a great deal of work to keep up to date. The Dragon also requires specialist knowledge of the main line, which must be risky when Magnus Carlsen is thinking up new ideas in tournament play. I think the basic opening advice in the main lines will require to be updated by your computer database but at least it points you in the right direction.

A very useful way to combat the Sicilian.

The Classical King's Indian Uncovered by Krzysztof Panczyk and Jacek Ilczuk

published by Everyman £15.99

The first thing worth explaining is that the classical uses the following move order 1 d4 Nf6 2 c4 g6 3 Nc3 Bg7 4 e4 d6 5 Nf3 0-0 6 Be2. This is the starting point for 384 pages of complicated lines. I turned to the ...Nbd7 lines for Black because star English players Gawain Jones and Luke McShane have recently championed these. Such trendy lines had a lot of 1960s reference which can be a solid base but one can't help thinking something good must have been played since then. Other chapters are better but a good memory is needed for the main variations that can last over 20 moves.

A good reference book for experienced tournament campaigners

OBITUARY - Richard W. O'Brien

Richard W. O'Brien

Sadly I report that Richard O'Brien died in hospital in Sussex on the 5th November 2009 aged 65. He had lived on the Sussex coast for many years.

Although a controversial character in the chess world, it shouldn't be forgotten that Richard made lots of positive contributions to chess community. Many will remember him as the publisher of the 'Trends' series of books on openings and 'Tournament Chess'. He would sell these along with many other publications through his network of dealers across the world as well as at his chess stalls at weekend tournaments.

But perhaps not everyone was aware of his other chess accomplishments. He was an International Chess Arbiter, an accolade not achieved by many, and a Chess Tournament Organiser - the Lewisham Internationals in the early 1980s and Accountancy Age Masters to name but two.

He was also very knowledgeable about the mechanics of the ELO Rating system and therefore was able to help many players achieve the results required to get GM/IM Norms particularly at the Lloyds Bank Masters, where he acted as an Arbiter.

He was Team Captain of Essex County Chess Team in the 70s & 80s and played for many club teams. I know him from having been a member of Charlton Chess Club and my own Club Lewisham for whom he was an excellent Team Captain. In that capacity, he was most definitely a hugely competitive captain who would 'play to win' at all costs.

He also represented Ireland a couple of times in matches against Wales and was a frequent traveller to Spain and other European Countries to play Tournaments and network with players and book dealers. Although he also dabbled in accountancy, chess was his life, love and living! A man who lived on his wits, he was a true entrepreneur.

In later years, he played for Lewes in the local Sussex League, although not for some time as his health had deteriorated over the last few years. Despite this, he still kept in contact with many of his friends from the Chess Community and remained interested in chess till the end.

But overriding all of this, on a personal level, his passing, means the loss of a long standing friend of more than 30 years

Andrew Smith

McDonald, R - O'Brien, R, London (Lloyds Bank Masters open) 1973

1 Nf3 d5 2 b3 c5 3 e3

Inaccurate is 3 Bb2 f6! 4 c4 d4 5 d3 e5 6 e3?! Ne7 7 Be2 Nec6! 8 Nbd2 Be7 9 0-0 0-0 and black was slightly better due to spacial advantage in the famous sixth game of the match Petrosian,T - Fischer,R, Buenos Aires 1971.

3...Nc6 4 Bb2 f6

In the played move order this move hasn't got the strength as in the previous example. The alternative are the moves 4...a6 (which hinders the development of White's Bishop on b5) or 4...Nf6 5 Bb5 Bd7 6 0-0 e6 7 d3 Le7 8 Nbd2 0-0 9 Bxc6 Bxc6 10 Ne5 Nd7 11 f4 (stronger is simple 11 Nxc6 with small advantage for White) 11...Nxe5 12 fxe5 a5 13 a4 b5 14 axb5 Bxb5 15 Qg4 Qd7 16 Rf4 g6 17 Nf3 a4 18 bxa4 h5 19 Qg3 Rxa4 with good play for Black from the game Morozevich, A 2385 - Rashkovsky, N 2530, Moscow (open) 1992.

5 d4

Of course, now White undermines Black's pawn centre in the spirit of Gruenfeld Indian.

5...Bg4 6 Be2 cxd4 7 exd4

Stronger is 7 Nxd4! Bxe2 8 Qxe2 with White's initiative.

7...e6 8 0-0 Bd6 9 h3 Bh5 10 c4 Nge7 11 Nc3 0-0 12 Re1 Bf7 13 a3 Rc8 14 Bd3 Bb8 15 Qd2?!

If 15 Rc1 then Black plays 15...Bf4! but 15...Na4!? was seriously coming into consideration with approximately equal play.

15...Na5

This thematic move which points at White's weaknessess b3 and c3, however, by means of following exhange sacrifice which was by the way forced, White will get enough compensation hence it was perhaps more accurate first to exchange on c4 so 15...dxc4! and if 16 bxc4 only then 16...Na5! with the advantage for Black..

16 cxd5 Nxb3 17 Qd1 Nxa1 18 dxe6 Be8 19 d5!? Qa5! 20 Qxa1 Nxd5 21 Nxd5 Qxd5 22 Be4 Qh5 23 e7 Rf7 24 Qa2 Bd6 25 Bd5 h6 26 g4?

This move unnecessarily leads to the weakening of kingside and to lost position. After the correct 26 Bd4! the position would stay in borders of equality.

26...Qxh3 27 Be6 Qxf3 28 Bxc8 Bh2+?

This move wins material but much stronger was 28...Qh3! after which white would be unable to defend well against mate.

29 Kxh2 Qxf2+ 30 Kh3 Qxe1 31 Be6 Qe3+ 32 Kh2 Qe2+ 33 Kh3 Qf1+ 34 Kh2 Qe2+ 35 Kh3 h5

Stronger is 35...Qd3+! 36 Kh2 Qd6+ with next taking on e7 winning for Black.

36 Qd5 hxg4+ 37 Bxg4?

This move loses the game. After correct 37 Kg3! white could still pose to Black prolonged resistance.

37...Qxe7

Black also easily wins with 37...Qxb2.

38 Bd4

If 38 Be6 then 38...Qxe6! 39 Qxe6 Bd7 and Black wins.

38...Bd7 39 Bxa7 Bxg4+ 40 Kxg4 Qd7+ 41 Qxd7 Rxd7 42 Kf5 b5 43 Ke6?? Rxa7 44 a4 Rxa4 45 Kd5 Kf8 0-1.

4NCL – report from Lawrence Cooper

The second weekend took place from 16-17 January at the Barcelo Hotel, Hinckley Island. The highlight of the weekend (other than the seven hour ECF meeting of course) was the match where Wood Green/Hilsmark Kingfisher took on Pride & Prejudice. After a titantic struggle the match ended 4-4 when Mark Hebden salvaged an unlikely half from his game against Alexander Baburin despite defending rook & knight against rook, knight & g+h pawns. Especially pleasing from an English perspective was the win with black for Mickey Adams against Etienne Bacrot on board 1. It's great to see Mickey continuing his good form from the London Chess Classic and I hope to see him back over 2700 on the next FIDE list. Harriet Hunt also won for P&P in a time scramble with Keti Arakhamia-Grant on board 8. In reply WGHK won on boards 2 and 7 with Jon Ludvig Hammer winning with black against Stewart Haslinger and Nick Pert grinding out a win against Florian Grafl. Boards 3-6 were drawn, board 4 being the most dramatic as already mentioned above. This leaves the league wide open with the likelihood of these two teams trying to rack up game points to outscore the other. Of course Barbican and Guildford may still yet have a say in the destination of the title, as may Wood Green 2.

The full results from rounds 3 and 4 in all three Divisions are available on the website and the games from the weekend should be available soon. The current league format splits Divisions 1 and 2 into two groups of 8. After 7 rounds the top 4 from each group form the top group and the bottom 4 form a relegation group. This effectively means a team can avoid relegation in the first 7 rounds by strengthening their teams sufficiently to break into the top group. It also means that teams wishing to qualify for Europe have to be in the top 4 after 7 rounds to give themselves a chance. Qualification is open to the three highest placed teams from England who wish to take up the place provided they finish in the top half of the league

The Fulprint 23rd York Congress

by Jon Griffith 8th to 10th January 2010

Arctic weather conditions blighted the York Congress. Three weeks of frost and accumulated snow deterred many players, and the entry field dropped below 200 for the first time. On the eve of the event heavy snow in Cheshire and Tyneside forced many entrants to withdraw. On the day more snow fell in Teeside and NorthYorkshire, causing a further rash of cancelations and bye requests. Finally, as the congress was due to start, a blizzard interupted traffic on the A64 and more players were forced to give up and turn back.

Fortunately the controllers had already arrived, as had the equipment in an all-terrain van from Chess Direct, so play started only five minutes late. The field was much depleted, but as delayed arrivals staggered in they were paired with each other, and finally 110 brave souls contested the Friday evening first round.

Conditions were clearer on Saturday morning, enabling us to count the wounded. One car had to be written off, and two others had been damaged, but nobody was injured. Several players decided not to risk a repeat of Friday's adventures and stayed home, but many who had taken a bye on Friday arrived fresh for chess battle on Saturday. Finally 140 players competed in the congress.

Charles Storey from Jesmond was the winner of the Open Section with a clean score of 5 wins. He took the top prize of £270, and he has qualified to compete in the 2010 British Championship. The runner-up was Chris Ross from Huntingdon who scored 4/5.

Joint winners of the Major section were Samuel Milsom and Paul Barber, while Steven Jones and Sophie Seeber won the Intermediate and Minor sections.

The York Congress does not award prizes to section leaders. Instead, we use the 'Lyttleton' system, where prizes are awarded for points scored. This year the number of paying entrants was one third below budget, but the number of prize-winners (28) and the total prizes (£1,660) are also well below the expectations. So, while we have paid each winner exactly the advertised prize, our apprehensive treasurer will not lose his house after all.

The congress is grateful to our sponsors Fulprint; to the staff of the Oaklands Leisure Centre which is now called 'Energise'; to Chess Direct, to our controller Geoff Jones, to Christine and Dave and to our many helpers and donors. The congress organisers are now seeking to retire, but we hope that new hands can be found for a new York Congress next year.

2010 Gibtelecom International Chess Festival

Tuesday January 26th

The 2010 Gibtelecom International Chess Festival got underway today at the Caleta Hotel in Gibraltar. At precisely 2.45pm (Gibraltar time) Charles Isola from Anglo Hispano Ltd, representing all sponsors, made the first move with Etienne Bacrot from France who is the highest rated player in the Gibtelecom Chess Masters. Play began at 3pm.

Famous Grandmaster Boris Spassky, following last years successful visit has made a return to the Gibtelecom International Chess Festival, and today made the first move with Alexandra Kosteniuk, the Womenís World Champion, in Gibraltar for the first time.

The rugged Russian bear versus the most beautiful woman in chess? Spassky and Kosteniuk square up ...'

The top three seeds: Etienne Bacrot, Sergei Movsesian (GM 2708 Slovakia) and Francisco Vallejo Pons (GM 2705 Spain), are all participating in the tournament for the first time.

The draw for the pairings was held on Monday night at which the Minister for Sport, Heritage and Culture, Edwin Reyes was also present. The draw was carried out by Maxine de la Rosa, Miss Gibraltar 1st Princess. Master of Ceremonies was GM Stuart Conquest.

The First Princess wished everyone the best of luck, and Minister Edwin Reyes welcomed everyone to the Rock.

Gibraltar is very proud to hold this tournament and we thank you for travelling such long distances to be here. Good luck to you all, he said.

This year there are 35 Grandmasters playing in the Open Masters with over 228 players, a record for this type of event and open tournament of this nature. The tournament itself is a 10 day festival which boasts an impressive field. The other competitions running simultaneously are the Challengers with 84 players and the Amateurs with 40

Live streaming with commentary is available every afternoon with Grandmaster Stuart Conquest. This year the tournament boasts a new broadcasting suite with the very latest technology installed by Gibtelecom. These commentaries are broadcast live on the congress website www.gibraltarchesscongress.com

The festivalís total prize fund of £112,500 is one of the highest in the world for an event which is open to all. The Masters has £96,600 in prizes, and there are two Challenger Tournaments, each lasting five days, with prizes for each of £5,500. Two five-day Amateur Tournaments are also played with prize money of £2,300 each.

2010 GibTelecom International Chess Festival also brings the latest online web facilities to the chess world!

The Gibtelecom Chess Festival has always been at the forefront of new technology and this year is no different. As many of you covering the event will have seen the Masters tournament is being transmitted live on the internet daily as from 3pm (Gibraltar time).

For live commentary and live games visit: www.gibraltarchesscongress.com

Grandmaster Stuart Conquest delivers his commentary, and is joined by a number of guests during the time of play. The live-streaming in this new broadcasting suite known as the Archie Suite captures play in the main Conference Hall where the competition is happening. It has meant new cabling infrastructure within the hotel, including Structured and Fibre cabling to increase the reach and quality of service for the chess team at the hotel. A Camera Dome in the middle of the Chess Playing Hall allows for better viewing of games. The Video and Audio Streaming of the live commentary has this year been off loaded to a specialized online system, which has greatly improved its quality, picture-in-picture features and reachability to all chess viewers.

The broadcasting facility has seen an investment of £100,000 from the Caleta Hotel in conjunction with engineers from Gibtelecom. Last year the tournament website received 54 million hits.

Brian Callaghan, tournament organizer said this week: The technology base provided by our lead sponsor has made this all possible and without that we would have been a little better than a regional tournament, but the reach, the ability and expertise that Gibtelecom has brought to this tournament has really raised the level.

The sponsorship of the tournament represents a large investment for Gibtelecom but its Chief Executive Tim Bristow said at the start if the 2010 tournament that the company was very pleased to be a part it, and which in the eight years since its inception had positioned itself as not only one of the top chess tournaments in the world but one of the leading ones from a technology perspective.

Tim Bristow, Gibtelecom Chief Executive said: Gibtelecom provides substantial technical support to the tournament. The Company hosts the tournament website, which gets many millions of hits and makes it easy for chess enthusiasts around the world to follow the proceedings. Gibtelecom is delighted to have been the leading commercial sponsor of the International Chess Festival from the outset. The Company is also dedicated to providing the technical support which plays its part in ensuring that the tournament is a success each year. This Gibraltar tournament was one of the first in the world to offer live video commentary by a grandmaster of some of the main games being played. This was not only innovative at the time but has become revolutionary in the chess world. Some of our technical staff have gained, together with the Company as a whole, from this experience.

A lively first MasterClass is a great success

Jovanka Houska, the reigning Ladies British Chess Champion, and Tania Sachdev a former India Ladies Champion, participated in the first Masterclass of the tournament in the newly built Archie Suite on Wednesday, which was again broadcast live on the internet. Hosted by GM Stuart Conquest, it was a packed house of chess enthusiasts who followed with interest the lively session, where each player showed one of their games from the tournament.

Stuart Conquest and Jovanka Houska

Bubbly and charming, both Jovanka and Tania analysed each of their games taking questions from the floor. The session lasted one and a half hours. The Master Classes are a major part of the 10 day festival bringing together the players from all over the world.

Tania showed her game from Wednesday in which she drew against GM Vadim Malakhatko from Belgium.

Jovanka showed her first round game in which she had won.

GM Stuart Conquest, described the class as extremely lively and a big success.

He added: There was much interest with much interaction from the floor. It was a most entertaining fun evening which proved popular with everyone and which set the pace and atmosphere for the all the planned social events of the tournament.
